DISTRICT NEWS

Community News

On Saturday, May 14, 2011, Hanover Park High School in East Hanover, NJ will be hosting “One Day, One School.” “One Day, One School” is a program that brings together tree experts, school officials, town representatives, local companies, and students, to volunteer their time and effort to landscape the school’s property while saving money for the participating towns and providing an educational opportunity for its children. Hanover Park graduate Ace Gallagher of Ace Gallagher Stump Grinding has organized the event and secured a number of local landscaping and tree companies to assist with the campus clean-up. Students, parents, and community members are invited and will be participating in this school wide campus beautification project. The project will begin at 8:30 a.m. and last throughout the day. One Day One School will be offering us this opportunity at no cost to our taxpayers. This program has already seen success in the Florham Park Schools, Hanover Township Schools, and our sister high school, Whippany Park. For more information about this program, you can visit www.onedayoneschool.org.
